Part 2: Programme Overview

BSc (Hons) Sports Business Management graduates demonstrate knowledge of specific business and management principles, underpinned by the General Manager standards provided by the Chartered Institute for the Management of Sport and Physical Activity (CIMSPA). They think creatively, challenge assumptions and can embrace the concepts of risk and innovation. The range of transferable and intellectual skills gained will also prepare and encourage progression to higher levels of study.

Graduates display critical insight into the organisations responsible for sport and the political context in which they operate. By assessing a range of options for solving problems, graduates will consider new ways of defining systems and employ theory to promote the development of sport throughout society. Understanding diversity in terms of people and cultures enables our graduates to effectively communicate using a range of media and adopt an evaluative approach to sources of information.

Graduates have confidence and self-esteem by taking responsibility for their own learning to enhance interpersonal skills and effective self-management.
