

PG Cert Animal Behaviour and Welfare

Award on completion of programme: PG Cert Animal Behaviour and Welfare

Professional body accreditation: None

Location of study: Hartpury University.

Length of programme: One year part-time.

Language of the programme: This programme is taught in English.

Entry Requirements:

General: At least a lower second class (2:2) Honours Degree in a relevant subject

Students with non-relevant qualifications but with two or more years of relevant work experience will be considered on an individual basis.

Mature and international applicants: Mature and international applicants are welcomed. Mature applicants that are not applying for a programme straight from formal education will be expected to demonstrate suitability for the course.

In the case of international applications, we will attempt to establish the equivalency of qualifications and the same criteria and assessment is used as for home students. An IELTS English qualification is expected for international applicants without a GCSE Grade C or above (or 9 to 4 where numeric grades are being awarded) in English Language.

If you have completed learning towards a university level qualification, perhaps at another institution or with a professional body or have relevant work experience then you may be able to gain credit for this. For further information please contact our Admissions team, who will be pleased to help you.

Personalised offers will be made to each applicant based on their own merits. Non-academic and academic achievement will be considered.

Timetables: This programme has been specially designed to fit around those working or volunteering within the sector. As such timetables have been carefully designed and include block teaching. This means that the teaching is condensed to allow the postgraduate study to occur round other commitments in our students' lives. Timetables are normally available during registration. It is recommended that you discuss potential timetables and how this may fit alongside working or volunteering with a member of Hartpury staff in person.

Programme Composition: This programme is comprised of different modules, which focus on specific subjects. The modular structure of the programme gives you flexibility and choice and you can attend introductory sessions for optional modules before having to finally decide which ones you wish to study. We usually offer all optional modules available to students however if we believe that we are unable to offer a high quality student experience (which can be particularly affected by low student demand) then we may make the decision not to offer it. If an optional module will not be run, we will advise you as soon as possible and help you choose an alternative module. Our teaching is informed by research, and modules change periodically to reflect developments in the discipline. These changes are informed by both industry and student consultation.

On completion and passing of these modules you gain academic credit that accumulates towards your award. The marks you gain for these modules may contribute towards your overall award mark and outcome. This programme offers students a mixture of classroom learning and independent research. Modules are often taught in two day blocks, allowing students to work around their other commitments. A field course of approximately 12 days forms the teaching for one optional module. In addition, students are expected to dedicate at least two to three hours of independent study per contact hour. Some modules may bring in guest lecturers to provide topical and industry-relevant talks.

Compulsory Modules

Year 1

- Advances in Animal Behaviour
Analysis of recent advances in the field of animal behaviour, including animal cognition, animal personality, animal social behaviour and animal communication.
- Contemporary Issues in Animal Welfare Science
Analysis of contemporary issues in animal welfare, including legislation, welfare concerns and welfare assessment.

Optional modules

These have been chosen to allow considerable flexibility for you to pursue an area that you are interested in and especially that may complement current employment and/or volunteering activity. Optional modules available are likely to include:

- Postgraduate Independent Study
Critical analysis of literature is central to academic study, and provides the focus of this module. Under the supervision of a member of the academic team you will engage in an exploration of a topic of your choice, critiquing key literature along the way.
- Equine Behaviour and Welfare
Critical evaluation of the role of horses in modern society and the ethical considerations of their use and management.
- Reflection on Practice
With voluntary experience in an appropriate organisation underpinning reflective practice, this module enables the application of theory into practice and reflection on your own and organisational practices in the animal industry.
- Wildlife Conflict
With a field course to South Africa forming part of the learning experience, this module will explore the challenges presented by wildlife conflict, explore solutions and propose strategies for resolving issues in our changing world.
- The Research Process
Discussion of research methodologies and applications, as well as strengths, weaknesses, and limitations of different methods.

Assessment Method: You will be assessed through a mixture of assessment methods, including utilization of media (such as video production, webinar delivery and e-portfolios), traditional examinations, reports and assignments, and poster presentations dependent on modules studied. Many of the modules will be marked based on a mixture of assessment types, whilst others will be based solely on one type of assessment.

Discounts and special support associated with enrolling on the programme: Hartpury subsidises optional short courses for a reduced cost that give students the opportunity to gain relevant experience and qualifications prior to graduation. These are in addition to the discounts Hartpury usually offers to its students, such as free Wi-Fi on site and Microsoft Office packages etc. There is lots of support available to you whilst you study including allocation of a personal academic tutor that you will meet for 1:1 sessions, detailed at: <https://www.hartpury.ac.uk/university/facilities/life-at-hartpury/student-support/>.

Costs associated with the programme: The cost of the programme will be £2333 per year for UK and EU students subject to government approval. International fees for this programme are £4333. We will only increase our fees in accordance with guidelines laid down by the Office for Students (OfS). Students are required to purchase appropriate clothing and footwear which is available from our supplier's online shop for approximately £40. Additional costs associated with the programme include the field trip (approximately £1500) if 'Wildlife Conflict' is taken. Hartpury alumni are currently entitled to a 20% discount on full-time postgraduate study fees or 10% off part-time fees.
