OVERVIEW

Course overview

If you want to develop business skills and pursue your equine passion while gaining real-world commercial experience, then this is the ideal course for you. You'll be able to tailor your studies to suit your individual career goals and apply your skills practically through industry work placements.

Compulsory modules will equip you with the skills to succeed in a commercial equine environment, covering core business subjects including finance, management and marketing. A comprehensive range of optional modules will allow you to apply your acquired knowledge and skills to the areas of the equine industry you're most passionate about.

You could focus on horse performance, equine nutrition or take an active role in the planning and organisation of successful events and competitions. Alternatively, you might choose to delve deeper into business through accounting and commercial decision-making, or explore the vibrant equine sport and hospitality sector.

Whatever route you choose, you'll be able to apply the key principles of successful business on a campus brimming with commercial opportunities. Alongside your studies you'll have the opportunity to experience a behind-the-scenes taste of equine business. Students gain experience at our regular international and national equine competitions and events, as well as in our commercial equine therapy and rider performance centres.

If you're interested in studying abroad, you'll have the opportunity to study a semester of your degree at an overseas institution. You'll also have the opportunity to complete an industry-recognised Chartered Institute of Marketing qualification to enhance your learning.

WHAT YOU'LL STUDY

What you'll study

This course includes a varied and vibrant selection of modules covering a number of specific commercial areas. You'll study both compulsory and optional modules, which you'll be able to choose from to suit your interests and career goals. Optional modules change each year in line with student, industry and research demands - you'll find recent topics studied below. The modular structure of the programme gives you flexibility and choice, and you can attend introductory sessions for optional modules to help you decide which ones are best for your individual career pathway.

During your studies, you'll also have the opportunity to complete an industry-recognised Chartered Institute of Marketing (CIM) Level 3 Award in Marketing Principles. The CIM is the world's leading professional marketing body.

Level four (year one)

This year will focus on fundamental business topics and help you to gain essential skills and knowledge across a wide range of areas. This varied first year will not only equip you to study at higher levels, but will also help you identify which areas of business and the equine industry are most of interest for your future career.

COMPULSORY MODULES

Personal and Management Development

Learn to evaluate your own strengths and weaknesses in relation to leadership and teamwork.

Equine Structure and Function

Learn about the biological systems of the horse, how they interact and how they can be managed.

Equine Industry

Discuss the scope and management of the equine industry in the UK and Europe.

Understanding the Business and Economic Environment

An introduction into macro and microeconomics.

Understanding Business and Financial Information

Study various financial statements and their use.

Introduction to the Principles of Marketing

An introduction to marketing models and strategies.

NONE

Optional modules

There are no optional modules during this year. Your learning is focused on compulsory modules to ensure you have a thorough understanding of key topics to prepare you for module choices in your subsequent years.

Level five (year two)

During this year, you'll be able to select from a wide range of optional modules that you're interested in, which may include equine events management or hospitality, or you may wish to study equine-specific modules. The industry placement forms an important and exciting part of your second year, helping to prepare you for your final year and graduate career.

COMPULSORY MODULES

Professional Placement Experience

We'll support you to complete a minimum of 150 hours of work experience during the year, which can be in a variety of equine-focused establishments in the UK or even abroad.

Undergraduate Research Process

This module will introduce you to the methods of research and analysis, helping to prepare you for the research project (dissertation) in your final year.

OPTIONAL MODULES

Optional modules

Optional modules change each year in line with student, industry and research demands.

Recent modules have included topics both in business and equine science ranging from Human Resource Management, Events Management, and Corporate Hospitality, to Equine Performance, Stud Management, Diagnostics and Therapy and Applied Equine Nutrition. These modules generally focus on how these topics are applied in the equine industry, taking a particular interest in the business and commercial aspects. Students are given the option of completing an integrated placement between their second and final years, which has previously covered a wide range of international and national placements utilising Hartpury and student links.

You can attend introductory sessions for optional modules before deciding which ones to study.

Integrated placement year (optional)

An optional integrated placement year before your final year gives you the opportunity to put your knowledge and skills into practice and gain valuable industry experience. Many students gain their graduate roles with the organisation with which they undertook their work placement.

Level six (final year)

Your final year allows you to focus on areas of particular interest to you, and you'll be able to select from a range of optional modules to support you in your future business career or postgraduate study.

One module is your dissertation, a substantial research project that enables you to plan, implement and report on a specialist topic. In addition, you'll be exposed to contemporary commercial challenges and advanced theory and practice including insights into areas of focus for industry research.

COMPULSORY MODULES

Undergraduate Dissertation

Immerse yourself in independent research and analysis in a related area with one-to-one support from an academic.

Business Management for the Equine Industry

Apply theoretical concepts gathered over the duration of your degree to explore the structure and governance of the equine industry and its distribution of power.

OPTIONAL MODULES

Optional modules

Optional modules change each year in line with student, industry and research demands.

Recent subjects have included topics within business such as brand development, sponsorship and strategic management, as well as a more in-depth understanding of the previously-covered equine science topics.

You can attend introductory sessions for optional modules before deciding which ones to study.

Please visit our document library for more module information.

HOW YOU'LL STUDY

How you'll study

We're committed to supporting you to fulfil your unique potential, which is why you'll receive a minimum of 15 hours of scheduled teaching time per week in your first year - this is 25% above the UK average.

Your support network

You'll benefit from a strong support network from day one to be the best you can be. This will range from your personal tutor and specialist academic support team (our Achievement and Success Centre) to dedicated wellbeing and employability (Innovation, Careers and Enterprise) centres.

Your learning experiences

You'll experience a range of teaching methods to strengthen your digestion of topics, including lectures, workshops and practical sessions, as well as supported work placement learning as part of many courses.

Your career

Each year of your course will be made up of two semesters, within which you'll study compulsory and optional modules on different industry-focused topics. This will enable you to develop your own unique portfolio of knowledge, skills and experience, ready for your career.

Further details

+ Academic support

You'll have your own personal tutor while you're here who will support you to succeed in your studies. You'll also have access to our academic and wellbeing support teams who run regular workshops and one-to-one sessions on campus and online.

Alongside this, we have a comprehensive bank of online study skills resources to help you make the most of your qualification.

+ Module credits

On successful completion of your modules you'll gain academic credit that accumulates towards your awards. The marks you gain in your final two years on campus may contribute towards your final degree classification.

+ Teaching modes

The modules contain a mixture of scheduled learning – lectures, workshops and practical sessions – alongside independent learning. You're expected to dedicate at least two to three hours of independent study per contact hour. Your course may also include work placement learning as part of some modules.

The course is taught in English.

| Year | Contact learning | Placement learning | Independent learning |
|---------------------------|------------------|--------------------|----------------------|
| Level four (year one) | 24% | 7% | 69% |
| Level five (year two) | 21% | 12% | 67% |
| Placement year (optional) | 1% | 80% | 19% |
| Level six (final year) | 18% | 0% | 82% |

+ Teaching contact time

You'll receive a minimum of 15 hours scheduled contact time per week in your first year. In subsequent years, scheduled contact will vary depending on the modules you select but is typically around 12 hours per week.

+ Assessment and feedback

You'll be assessed through a mixture of written exams, practical exams and written assignments. Many of the modules will be marked based on a mixture of assessment types, whilst others will be based solely on one type of assessment. Feedback will be given online (electronic and oral), and in some cases face to face.

| Year | Written exam | Practical exam | Coursework |
|---------------------------|--------------|----------------|------------|
| Level four (year one) | 20% | 29% | 51% |
| Level five (year two) | 6% | 13% | 81% |
| Placement year (optional) | 0% | 0% | 100% |

| Year | Written exam | Practical exam | Coursework |
|------------------------|--------------|----------------|------------|
| Level six (final year) | 13% | 19% | 68% |

+ Timetables

Each year of this course is taught over two semesters, normally consisting of 12 weeks of scheduled teaching and then assessment weeks.

During scheduled teaching you'll have a day without timetabled sessions to support you in managing your workload, gaining valuable volunteering and work experience and completing part-time work.

- Scheduled teaching takes place between 8:30 to 20:30 Monday to Friday
- You'll always have one day without timetabled sessions
- Wednesday afternoons are normally reserved for sports and cultural activities
- Work placements may entail different days and hours
- Part-time students may need to attend learning activities five days each week, depending on modules selected
- Timetables are available during enrolment week

EMPLOYABILITY

Your career

Industry opportunities on this course are diverse. We'll help you to develop the skills, experience and connections needed for a successful graduate career in equine business management. Many of our students even go on to secure their graduate roles with their work placement employers.

Work placements and experience

You'll undertake a compulsory work placement in year two, allowing you to work in the industry and put what you've learned into practice. Students have recently completed placements at British Dressage, our own NAF Five Star International Hartpury Horse Trials, the British Equestrian Trade Association and Cirencester Park Polo Club. You could work in a variety of roles including media and marketing, sales, or sponsorship and events. An optional integrated placement year between your second and final years may also help you acquire more extensive industry experience.

On-campus opportunities

Our commercial equine facilities can offer opportunities to gain industry experience. You'll have access to our world-class equine facilities including a state-of-the-art rider performance centre with the most advanced riding simulators in the world, a leading Equine Therapy Centre, international competition arenas and stabling for 230 horses.

Alongside this, our equine events, rider performance and equine therapy centre are successful businesses in their own right, providing opportunities for you to gain invaluable work experience in a commercial environment. These experiences not only help you develop your knowledge but also help you make valuable connections among our professional equine contacts.

Field trips and guest lecturers

Visits and lectures from industry professionals form an important part of your learning, enabling you to experience different businesses and enterprises, and develop your career.

You'll develop a greater understanding of commercial business and equine management practices as you take part in study trips to local and national equine business organisations. Hearing from industry experts and professionals in lectures will also help you explore potential career paths. Previous guest lecturers have included representatives from Cheltenham Racecourse.

Study internationally

Our Study Abroad programme means that you can make the most of opportunities to study a semester or full year of your degree at one of our partner institutions while achieving credits towards your degree.

FACILITIES

World-class facilities

You'll have access to a diverse range of facilities while you're here, many of which are newly built and world class. Alongside lecture halls and workshop spaces these include:

International competition centre

Our equestrian centre hosts major international events as well as a busy calendar of local and regional competitions. Our international events attract competitors, sponsors and spectators from across the globe including European, World and Olympic champions. These events are the perfect place for you to make valuable connections, while volunteering and gaining invaluable experience alongside your peers.

Commercial yard

You could also make the most of work experience or voluntary work on our busy commercial yard, learning about the day-to-day management of a real equine facility and its residents. The yard has stabling for 230 horses, including 125 boxes for student livery. Facilities also include two horse walkers, four indoor schools, three outdoor schools, limited turnout and a non-slip trot-up, so there's always something going on.

Study spaces

Our University Learning Centre has journals, ebooks, computers and break-out study spaces, as well as our Study Lounge – an informal space with sports equipment, study booths and chill-out spaces to support both studying and relaxation.
