OVERVIEW

Course overview

This programme will support you to take your coaching to the next level by becoming a theoretically informed and evidence-based coaching practitioner.

You'll benefit from a range of academically stimulating and industry-relevant modules, delivered by lecturers and professors who are also coaching practitioners for international, national and local clubs, as well as our own performance Sports Academy teams.

The course is ideal for recent graduates, as well as coaching practitioners in high-performance sport and those in development coaching roles, who want to develop in an academic environment, whilst applying theory to practice in real-world employment or extra-curricular settings.

As an MSc student, you'll undertake a significant piece of research in your final year, contributing new knowledge to an area of your own work or wider coaching environment.

With both full and part-time learning options, you could study alongside existing employment or other commitments.

WHAT YOU'LL STUDY

What you'll study

MSc degree

The course has been designed to engage you in the process of applying theoretical principles to your practice, enabling you to develop as an academically informed reflective practitioner.

Industry-informed and relevant modules will support you to develop a deeper understanding of coaching, coach education and high-performing coaching environments, focusing on the practical nature of the discipline.

You'll be encouraged to focus on your existing coaching context, with opportunities to tailor your assessments to help meet the demands of your professional role.

Postgraduate Certificate and Postgraduate Diploma

These qualifications form part of and are at the same level as the full master's degree. They provide the ideal opportunity for you to develop your professional expertise via shorter part-time qualifications to fit around commitments, whilst allowing flexibility to progress each qualification through to the next level, including the full master's degree.

Postgraduate Certificate

The Postgraduate Certificate includes the initial group of core modules.

Postgraduate Diploma

The Postgraduate Diploma includes these core modules alongside focused research in a coaching context that could reflect your current role or future ambitions.

MSc degree

The full MSc includes all of the above plus your dissertation.

Modules

Below you'll find the compulsory modules for this course. You'll also be able to choose from a range of optional modules to suit your interests and career goals.

Optional modules change each year in line with student, industry and research demands.

COMPULSORY MODULES

Postgraduate Dissertation (MSc)

Students will develop and undertake a research project of their choosing.

Professional Development Portfolio (all levels)

You'll reflect your personal learning needs, potential future mentors and peak coach experiences to date.

Coaching Craft (all levels)

Understand coaching philosophy and coaching behaviours and decision-making.

Reflective Practice (all levels)

Developing reflective practices and their use in coaching.

The Scientific Coach (PGDip, MSc)

Prepares students to review current research and conduct their own research projects in the area of coaching.

OPTIONAL MODULESOptional modules

Optional modules change each year in line with student, industry and research demands.

Recent subjects have included areas of coaching, coach education, pedagogy in practice and high-performing environments that students are particularly interested in and may be considering as contexts for future employment.

We also offer work-based learning opportunities and support small independent projects, in line with professional interests.

Please visit our document library for more module information.

HOW YOU'LL STUDYHow you'll study

We're committed to supporting you to fulfil your unique potential while you're here so that you can achieve your personal and professional goals.
