Part 2: Programme Overview

MSc Applied Equine Science graduates can apply scientific principles to maximise performance, enhance career longevity or aid in selection of the performance horse, with the underpinning goal of optimising equine welfare. Their studies in the field of equine science have been informed by staff research, consultancy and scholarship in addition to exposure to a wide range of specialist, onsite facilities and resources. The programme will have enabled graduates to develop their capacity for critical, and analytical thought. Graduates are familiar with the physical resources and techniques necessary to critically evaluate the impact of both endogenous (internal) and exogenous (external) factors on equine athletic performance and welfare. The depth of knowledge and transferable skills gained by graduates from this programme, have prepared them for employment and/or further research within and outside of the equine industry.

Part 3: Programme Structure

This structure diagram demonstrates the student journey from enrolment through to graduation for a typical full-time student on the primary programme, including:

- 1 level and credit requirements
- 2 award requirements that are in addition to those described in the Hartpury University Academic Regulations
- 3 module diet, including core and optional modules.

Please note:

*PAB – these modules are subject to additional and variant regulations as part of an accreditation by a professional accrediting body

+ Non-condonable – these core modules are not able to be condoned

Part 4: Programme Learning Outcomes

Modules in bold are core modules and modules not emboldened are optional modules.

A denotes a module that assesses a learning outcome and B denotes a module aligned with a learning outcome.

	Postgraduate Dissertation	The Research Process	Investigating Equestrian Research	Equine Management for Optimal Performance and Welfare	Developing a Sustainable Equine Industry	Postgraduate Independent Study	Rider Performance	Applied Equine Exercise Physiology	Therapy and Rehabilitation of the Equine Athlete	Equine Behaviour	Advances in Equestrian Biomechanics
Learning Outcomes:
A) Knowledge and Understanding of:
1. problems and/or new insights in the field of equine science.		B	A	B	A	A
2. techniques applicable to research in the area of equine science leading to potential publication or advanced scholarship.	A	B	A			A		B		A	B
3. how established techniques of research and enquiry are used to create and interpret knowledge in science disciplines.		A	B		B	A	B		A	B	B
4. the ethical and sustainable impact of in practice protocols within the equine industry				A	A			A
5. the diversity of the stakeholders involved in the equine industry	B		A	A	A		A		B		B
B) Intellectual Skills
1. Critical evaluation of current research in the area of equine science.	A	A	A		B	A	A	B	A		A
2. Evaluation and critique of methodologies and, proposal of new hypotheses where appropriate	A	A			B	B				A	B

3. Planning, conducting and reporting a programme of original research	A	B	B							A	B
4. Analysis and resolution of complex problems relating to equine science	A		A	A	A	B	B	A	A	B	B
5. Synthesis of information from a number of sources to gain a coherent understanding of theory and practice	A	A		B	A	A	B	B	A
6. Critical evaluation of evidence underpinning equine science to suggest appropriate changes in practice	A	B	A	A	A	A			B	B	A
C) Performance and Practice
1. Design equine exercise test protocols suitable for clinical, research and training feedback purposes							A	A	A		B
2. Make judgements on the ethics of the manipulation of the equine phenotype to enhance performance				A	B					B
3. Develop methods for assessing the efficacy of equine exercise programmes							A	A	A		A
4. Produce evidence informed strategies for sustainable and ethical practice in the equine industry				A	A					B
5. Critique established protocols and propose justified alternatives in equestrian management to enhance future practice	B	B	A	A	A	B				A
D) Setting, Personal and Enabling Skills
1. Communicate effectively with a wide range of individuals using a variety of means.	A		A	A	A		A			B	A
2. Evaluate their own academic, vocational and professional performance.	A
3. Utilise problem-solving skills in a variety of theoretical and practical situations.	A		A	A	A	B	B		B	B	A
4. Take responsibility for independent personal and professional learning and development.	A	B	B	A	B	A		B		B	A

5. Manage time, prioritise workloads and consider personal emotions and wellbeing.	A	B	B	A	B	A		B	B	B
6. Utilise information management skills, e.g. IT skills.	A	B	A			A		B		B	A
7. Undertake an independent research project.	A					A				A	A

Part 5: Learning, Teaching and Assessment

The programme will expand on students' understanding of the theoretical aspects of equine science, but with an emphasis on the application of these areas in the practical setting, for example, within the core module Equine Management for Optimal Performance and Welfare. Students will have the opportunity to apply this understanding throughout a range of modules embedded within the programme, including, but not limited to, Equine Behaviour, and Advances in Equestrian Biomechanics. In addition, they will learn the principles of managing change and understanding the broader equine industry. Throughout modules incorporated within the programmes. Students will be facilitated in applying this knowledge to the context of managing the balance of performance, health and welfare; including the contemporary concept of a social licence to operate.

The MSc will use a range of teaching approaches, which will aim to support the student to develop a comprehensive knowledge and understanding of the scientific principles and practices used within the equine industry. This will include a variety of didactic and discursive sessions, with academic and professional experts in their fields. Learning opportunities will be varied, with students able to apply theory to practice within learning environments on the Hartpury campus and using Hartpury's equestrian resources. Students will be required to assimilate complex theories and concepts to solve real world problems and advance current scientific thinking. Engagement with staff research currently undertaken within the institution will further these skills, with a focus on publication in peer reviewed literature and conference attendance.

Assessment throughout the programme is focused on the students' ability to apply theoretical frameworks and scientific evidence to practical issues, scenarios and contexts directly relevant to the applied field of Equine Science; particularly in relation to enhancing performance and welfare of the horse, and sustainability of the equine industry. As such, variety of assessment strategies are employed across the programme to test their in-depth understanding of these frameworks and their ability to use this information to problem solve and then communicate these solutions to a variety of academic and stakeholder audiences. Chosen assessment strategies are appropriate to the applied nature of the individual subjects, their respective stakeholders and their industry application. Specific approaches include, but are not limited to, video production, webinar delivery, written tests, oral presentations, research reports and more traditional assignments.

This programme will be assessed according to the approved Academic Regulations.

Students registered on this programme will have access to the Hartpury University support services.

The distinctive module used by the Programme Examination Board to inform recommending differential awards for students when considering borderline performance profiles will be Postgraduate Dissertation.

Professional Accrediting Body documents to which this programme is mapped and or aligned: None.

*Indicative assessment types for new students enrolling on this programme after the date this specification takes effect (Part 1) are shown in terms of either Coursework, Written Examination, or Practical Examination as indicated by the colour coding above.

This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if they take full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of individual modules can be found through Hartpury's website (www.hartpury.ac.uk).

Approved Programme Amendment Log

Primary Programme Title:	MSc Applied Equine Science (was MSc Equine Science until V3_0)
Programme Code:	MSTEAESX
Initial Approval Date:	01 September 2017

Changes: Most recent at the top of the page

19.08.2022 - Part 1: Unit-E code changed from MSTEESXX to MSTEAESX for administrative purposes.

Current version number: 3.0
Outline Change Details:
Part 1 and 3- interim awards updated to include new 30 credit Postgraduate Award in Equine Studies as previously omitted in error
Part 5: Therapy & Rehabilitation of the Equine Athlete (HEQXKS-15-7) changed from Case Study Written Examination to Test
Material Alteration: No
Rationale: In line with the recent assessment type review, the description of this assessment being used within this module is best described as Test. This enables it to remain in the online format that it has run successfully as for the last three years and which is a far more inclusive format for postgraduate learners. Furthermore, whilst 'test' does not preclude it from having case study scenarios embedded within the assessment, it does not tie it in to this, should cases studies not be appropriate for the question being asked / topic being assessed; therefore, permitting the ML far more flexibility in the questions that can be asked.

Change approved with effect from:	01 September 2018
New version number:	V2.2

Version v1.1

Rationale: Investigating Equestrian Research is a broader equine science module that better fits the overall ethos of the programme. The Rider Performance module which is more specialist and would be better placed as an optional module where those who do want to focus on the rider are able to take it, but those who have no interest or experience in this specific field are able to choose an alternative .
Material Alteration: No
Outline Change Details: Investigating Equestrian Research HEQV6Y-15-7 moved from optional to compulsory and Rider Performance HEQXKR-15-7 moved from compulsory to optional.
